

DID YOU KNOW THAT?

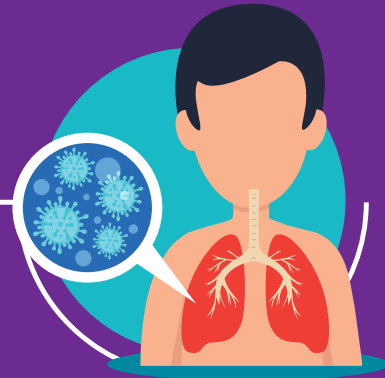

People living with cancer may have a higher risk of infection because of changes in their immune system.

Persons needing extra care include :

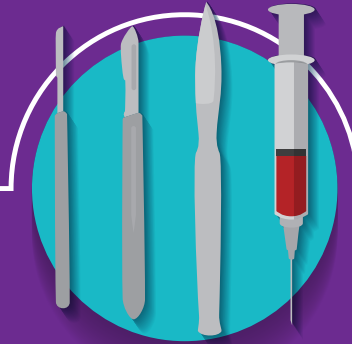

Those receiving other targeted cancer treatments that affect the immune system,

Those undergoing active chemotherapy or radiotherapy

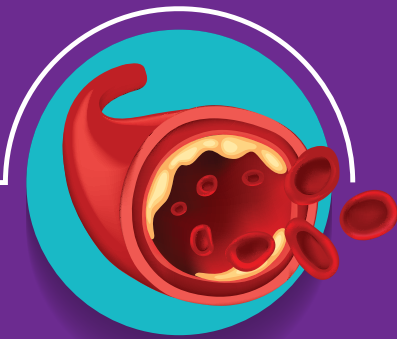

Those with pre-existing cardiovascular, respiratory or kidney disease

Those who have had surgery, bone marrow or stem cell transplants in the last 6 months, or who are still taking immuno suppression drugs.

Those aged over 60 years.

Those with cancers of the blood or bone marrow such as leukemia, lymphoma or myeloma at any stage of treatment

If you have flu-like symptoms or suspect you have Covid-19, Call 719 for advice

BECAUSE OF THIS, EXTRA CARE AND ADHERENCE TO MINISTRY OF HEALTH GUIDELINES FOR COVID-19 PREVENTION IS HIGHLY RECOMMENDED.
